The new and greatly improved KTech Software website was launched this weekend. The new site makes use of the content management system Joomla which just a great thing that allows us to keep the site updated in a much easier fashion than the original site. We're hoping with this step forward we can keep our customers up to date with the latest goings-on and developments with KTech.

The design was flushed out by Z1 Design who did a fabulous job working with us to modernize the look and feel of the site. Its been in the works for a while now and we're excited to see its reception going forward.
